

THE RADAR HOME

PRODUCED BY TRAVIS NEIGHBOR WARD
REPORTING BY ELEANOR HAND

JAVA GEMS

If you're relying on a boring old coffee maker to get you going in the morning, try these stylish, Italian accessories on for size instead. Old-school addicts can grind beans with Capresso's conical burr grinder, then brew the grounds in Alessi's eight-cup French press designed by famed late architect/designer Aldo Rossi. Or, for ultra-fast service, opt for Illy's FrancisFrancis! X1 or Gaggia's titanium espresso machine—the latter will grind, tamp and brew your beans, plus eliminate the waste, at the touch of a single button. Then, dip into the cream and sugar with the Anna service designed by Alessandro Mendini and you're ready to start the day. ☑

ITALIAN BEAUTIES [CLOCKWISE FROM TOP]: Rossi Coffee Press, Alessi, $145 at Retromodern.com, 805 Peachtree St., 404.724.0093, www.retromodern.com. Infinity Conical Burr Grinder, Capresso, $140 at The Cook's Warehouse, 4062 Peachtree Road, 404.949.9945, www.cookswarehouse.com. Gaggia Titanium Espresso Connoisseur's Kit, Illy, $1,700 at Neiman Marcus, 3393 Peachtree Road, 404.266.8200, www.illy.com. Anna Sugar/Creamer Set, Alessi, $220 at Retromodern.com. FrancisFrancis! X1 Espresso Machine, $650 at Star Provisions, 1198 Howell Mill Road, 404.365.0410, www.starprovisions.com.

CAPRESSO PHOTO BY IAIN BAGWELL